

Melbourne Guitarists Adam May and Paul Carey are Duo Agogo, the pair perform Brazilian choro music as well as original compositions inspired by Brazil and beyond. Their live shows are a fiery display of one of the first truly Brazilian instrumental music forms and a showcase of guitar mastery. In 2015 they became the first Australian Guitarists to be invited to the Zihuatenejo International Guitar Festival in Mexico. Their new CD 'Pacific' tells the tale of this epic adventure.
